CONVIVIALITY IN PRACTICE: CAPE TOWN 2023
field research | screenings | workshop | panel discussions

From October 9 to 13, 2023, Marina Gržinić and Jovita Pristovšek visited Cape Town, South Africa, for a week of field research, workshops and encounters. During their visit, a 2-day convivial workshop was held at the University of Cape Town, including the

We use the methodology of case studies, to connect to our starting point, which was to examine from Europe the three lines of history that are ideologically and violently destroying the world: colonialism in premiere of the experimental-documentary video film *Insurgent Flows. Trans*Decolonial and Black Marxist Futures* (90 min, 2023), and two panel discussions with South African colleagues: Goitsione Mokou, Hannah Mutanda Kadima Kaniki, Darion Adams, facilitated by Mpho Ndaba, on Conviviality and What is Just, and Jordan Pieters, Nkone Chaka, facilitated by Kim Reynolds, on Practicing Conviviality. The exchange was realized together with project partner Ass. Prof. Nomusa Makhubu of the University of Cape Town (Michaelis School of Fine Arts), and co-funded by the Erasmus+ Mobility program of the European Union.

We would like to thank the Academy of Fine Arts' International office, specifically Angelina Kratschanova, for their support around the Erasmus+ Mobility Grant!

In our previous research project, Genealogy of Amnesia, we started with an earlier investigation on colonialism, antisemitism and turbonationalism within the scope of Europe. In our current research, Conviviality as Potentiality, we expanded this scope into the global world. From Belgium and Congo to South Africa (Cape Town), from the European Union to Australia, where the border regime is a toxic-murderous case, and finally Israel and its realities of regional conflict.

the format of contemporary coloniality, antisemitism spreading in the world and the murderous violence it provokes, and turbonationalism. Paradoxically, the question arises as to whether it is not a new situation that borders are not disappearing in neoliberal global capitalism but, on the contrary, are being reinforced and represent new forms of spatial and temporal closure.

In South Africa, this toxic-murderous border regime remained most palpable after the Second World War. After Congo's brutal colonialism, apartheid in South Africa was a sign of colonialism shamefully extended into modernist times, the colonial relations that lasted for decades in the 20th century.

CIVIL SOCIETY REIMAGINED

Citizens' Memories and Imaginaries: Democratic Citizenship

Forthcoming edited volume (2024)
FWF TCS 119

After almost two years of arts-based Citizen Science research, we are happy to announce the forthcoming volume “Civil Society Reimagined” (kopaed, 2024).

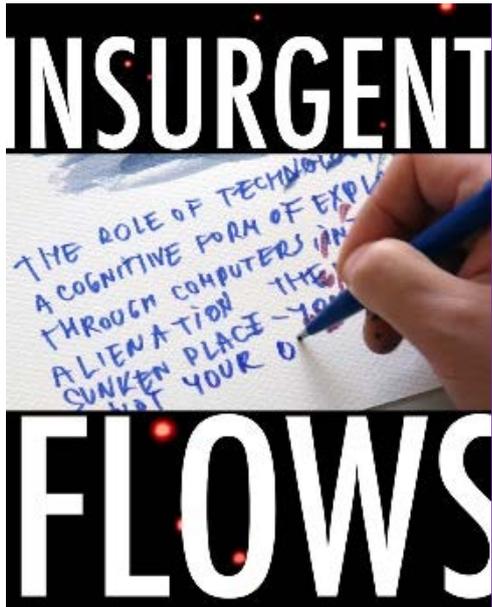

The book documents how some of the principles of Citizen Science can be used in combination with arts and artistic research by engaging high-school students as citizen scientists and artists, and how social and community issues can be addressed in new ways.

MUSLIM*CONTEMPORARY
exhibition | workshops
| readings | more

The third edition of Muslim*Contemporary, a project by Salam Oida, is titled Von Gästen zu Gastgebernden – War das jetzt unfreundlich?! and reflects on the fact that Vienna was once again named the most unfriendly city. The festival is dedicated to the question of hospitality, community building and the presentation and participation of new perspectives on art and culture in a safe, multidisciplinary space.
